

The Health2Wealth Program

For People Who Prefer Natural & Alternative Means to Health Care

Building a Stronger You Both in Health & Wealth

Hello

I am a local business owner here in Sarasota. I own and operate Touch-For-Life Massage & Wellness Center in Laurel Park across from the Woman's Exchange. Aside from the wellness aspect of alternative and complementary health care of my business, I offer intuitive business coaching. I have combined my knowledge in the holistic health care arena and my gift in intuitive business coaching and designed an innovative approach towards Health & Wealth that I would like to introduce you to. I wish to take but a moment of your time. 😊 Thank you

With today's current concern with 'Occupy Wall Street', our health care system as we once knew is crumbling before our eyes. The safety and security that we will be taken care of no longer holds true. In these uncertain times we are beginning to see what our other options are in terms of health care. What has remained steady and strong for decades dating back to over 5000 years ago, holistic therapies are regaining in popularity with its effective health outcomes and still lower in cost than any health care treatment out there. However, many do not opt for the holistic approach simply because it is not recognized with most insurance plans. Therefore it falls by the wayside gaining in reputation as being a 'luxury' service for the rich or just for special occasions. Even still, people with limited to no health insurance are no longer receiving conventional care either.

As you know, although allopathic medicine has its place which cannot and should not be dismissed nor discounted, we wish to offer you an alternative approach that can complement your existing health care plan that is accessible and yet affordable.

Our practitioners have a vested interest in the health and wellbeing of the clients that they treat. They are also aware of the changing times in the economy and the health care system. Unlike the conventional medical platform, holistic practitioners are able to make adjustments in fees for service and are able to adopt various methods into their model of business operations so that they do not turn people away based on ability to pay.

If you have limited to no health insurance, minimal to no income based on work related issues; perhaps limited work hours being one or even disability, whatever the case may be, you are more than likely to qualify for the Health2Wealth Program.

We have a system in place that may stimulate both health and wealth back into your life. We can accommodate your health related issues free and impartial in exchange for your service work hours within the community. You not only get to gain work experience out in the work force but this opportunity may grant you potential permanent job placement.

Although the treatments that you receive from a Health2Wealth participating practitioner are free and impartial, the practitioners are reimbursed for the time that they spend with you.

How it Works

In the scope of this model, there are three separate factors, roles and goals involved to make this work. To start, there is the client who has limited financial resources but chooses holistic services as a means for or as an extension to their existing health care plan. There is also the practitioner who offers the services that the client prefers free and impartial and lastly there is the local business owner who offers temporary community service hours in exchange for the holistic health care received with an added consideration for potential permanent future employment.

With the Health2Wealth Program we have designed an approach towards granting individuals like you, acceptance into the Health2Wealth Program as a means to accessible and affordable alternative and complementary health care in exchange for your service work hours within the community. The business pays a fee for the work performed and we then pay the practitioner for their time spent with you in free/impartial care.

Lending a helping hand to local businesses with the premise to stimulate the economy and improve and reinvent a health care system that is near about fallen apart and failing us is one of the goals here. Another would be to improve the health and increase the wealth of many community dwellers, like you, that have found yourselves up against difficult times.

The downturn in the health care system as well as the economic collapse has left many without much hope; not to mention the financial burden to pay for the care that is needed. When people are in pain physically and financially they frantically seek out avenues that can help them. We want to bridge that gap and offer you a means to both.

When participating in the Health2Wealth Program we see the program as giving you a second chance in life in more ways than you can imagine. Below is just a short list of some of the holistic modalities that may be offered.
